

ISAP 2018

2018 International Symposium on Antennas and Propagation
October 23-26, 2018 | Paradise Hotel Busan, Busan, Korea

Prof. Young-Ki Cho

Kyungpook National University, Korea

Prof. Young-Ki Cho was born in Seoul, Korea(south). He received a B.S. degree in Electronics Engineering from Seoul National University, Seoul, Republic of Korea, in 1978. He received M.S. and Ph.D. degrees in Electrical Engineering from the KAIST (Korea Advanced Institute of Science and Technology), Daejeon, Korea. Since 1981, he has been with the School of Electrical Engineering and Computer Science at Kyungpook National University, Daegu Korea. Since 1992 he has been Korea's representative on URSI Commission B, Fields and Waves. In 2008 he became President of the Korean Institute of Electromagnetic Engineering and Science. He has been serving as a reviewer for international journals including IEEE and PIERs journal etc.

In particular Prof. Cho served as a general chair for the 2011 ISAP(International Symposium on Antennas and Propagations) which was held in JeJu island in Korea.

His research interests include electromagnetic theory, scattering problem, antenna, and RF devices.